Supporting Individuals that are Deaf or Hard of Hearing

The Challenge:
Find an effective and affordable approach to support attendees who are Deaf or Hard of Hearing.

The Answer:
Interact-Streamer™

The ADA requires that you provide equal access for all webinar attendees. How are you meeting this requirement for individuals that are Deaf or Hard of Hearing? Hiring transcriptionists is expensive, requires advanced scheduling and does not support multiple languages. The answer is Interact-Streamer™.

How It Works

Interact-Streamer™ is a web-based captioning and translation system specifically designed to support webinars. Streamer™ runs on laptops, MacBooks, iPads, iPhones, Android phones, Chromebooks and more. With Streamer™ there are no apps to install, software modules to download, invite codes to publish, or QR codes to generate. You can include the captioning as part of your live stream, or let attendees view the captioning on their own device (e.g., laptop, iPhone, etc.). Attendees simply go to www.streamer.center, and log in using the account that we'll set up for you. Simple and easy.

Webinar Handouts

Just Drag-and-Drop your handouts into the transcription window and they're sent to all attendees. Instant distribution, made easy.

Removing Language Barriers

Plus, with Streamer™ whatever you say is simultaneously translated and, if attendees want, spoken aloud in other languages. Each attendee can view, and listen, to the presentation in their own preferred language.

Try Streamer for Free

Streamer costs around 1/100th the amount of traditional approaches like CART. With Interact-Streamer there are no per-minute or per-session fees. Use your account as often as you like, without any limits or additional fees. To give Streamer a try, open a Chrome browser, go to www.streamer.center, log in using account Demo and the password 12345678, click on the Demo room and start captioning your speech.
