I have visited Mitti Cafe at least ten times since they opened. The great food I got to enjoy and the amazing service I experienced each time, made me go back there the next time. The open space is perfect for evening with lots of talks and yummy food.

However what is special about this cafe is the ambience brought about by the amazing people with different disabilities working in it. Not only am I at awe about how perfectly they do their job but I am equally impressed by their constant energy. Even my friends love the food and keep visiting often! Although the menu is quite limited, everything they make is yummy. Just tell them how you prefer it (as in little spicy, extra spicy or not spicy) while you order and they make it for you.

Additionally, the entire team is always polite and courteous. They never take a second to think while it's time to go that extra mile to make you happy! Must say, when it comes to customer service, I am a really tough customer to impress but the team easily does the job.

Recommending Mitti Cafe for tasty and simple North Indian food. Must try their Bhindi and Dal. Ate here a few times and always had a good experience. Great to see a concept that promotes inclusion working so perfectly. Keep it up!

I loved their Chats and Frankies amongst the other dishes. Recently got an opportunity to visit again and I was surprised and delighted by seeing people with various disabilities working together. You have persons on wheelchair, people who can't hear and speak and those with mental disabilities complementing each other which is fascinating.

Love the Vegetable Biryani! The Biryani is moist unlike other places which serve very dry long grain rice and one can have it without any gravey or raita. Though the gravey served with is quite tasty too. Well cooked and tasty vegetables in Biryani made us happy.

The quantity is large so three people can easily eat in two plates. Prices are awesome too and totally worth the food and service. Their service is very quick and staff is welcoming. The place is great on ambience too.
