The protection of your privacy, including your personal data, is of greatest importance to the Zero Project. We therefore fully comply with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (EU) 2016/679 of the European Union.

This privacy policy provides information about the different types of personal information that we collect and the ways in which we use it. If you have any questions about your data and how it is handled, please feel free to contact our data controller at: data@zeroproject.org

1. Purpose of the Processing Operation

The Zero Project uses your contact data solely for the purpose of administration and to provide service to you. Your contact details allow the Zero Project to interact with you in order to achieve a world without barriers. To prevent fraudulent use, the Zero Project reserves the right to remove faux profiles.

We may obtain your personal information from a number of sources including:

- When you provide it to us directly. For example, if you register for our annual conference using your email address.
- When it is publicly available. Your personal information may be available to us from external publicly available sources. This includes information available on government websites (e.g. European institutions such as EASPD) or non-Zero Project company or institutional websites.
- When you visit our website. Our website uses cookies and other tracking technologies to improve your experience of our website—this can involve collecting personal information. Please refer to our Cookie Policy for details of the way the use of cookies may affect your personal information.

2. Data Processed

We may collect, store, and otherwise process the following kinds of personal information:

- Your full name;
- Your email address;
- Your postal address;
- Your social media account information;
- Photos taken of you at Zero Project events;
- Quotes attributed and confirmed by you;
- Your telephone number;
- And any other information you share directly with us such as your professional status and role.

Information collected from users of this site will be used only to the extent necessary for the purposes indicated below:

- To conduct email marketing;
- To post and host photo galleries of Zero Project events;
- To post and host videos of Zero Project events;
- To draft and publish feature articles;
- To include in any shape or form in our publications;
- To allow us to review, evaluate and administer Awards, and other Zero Project programs;
- To register you for an event;
- To contact you for our advocacy purposes and to inform you of events or publications we think you may potentially be interested in;
- For research purposes so that we can identify key trends within the disability inclusion field.

The Zero Project website – zeroproject.org – uses Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc. (“Google”). Google Analytics uses “cookies,” which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyze how users use the site. Information generated by the cookie about your use of the website will usually be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. IP anonymizing is activated on this website, which means that your IP address is masked by Google within member states of the European Union or other member states of the European Economic Area prior to transmission. Only in exceptional cases will the full IP address be transmitted to a Google server in the United States and masked there. On behalf of the operator of this website, Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of the website, compiling reports on website activity, and providing other services relating to website activity and internet usage to the website operator. Google will not associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser; however please note that, by doing this, you may not be able to use the full functionality of this website. You can also prevent the transmission of data (including your IP address) generated by the cookie on your usage of this website to Google by downloading and installing a browser plugin available under the following link: Google optout

4. Controller of the Processing Operation

The Controller determining the purpose and the means of the processing operation is the Zero Project, an entity of the Essl Foundation situated in Schottenring 16, 1010 Vienna, Austria. The VAT identification number of the Zero Project is: ATU 64 266 136

5. Recipients of the Data

The Zero Project addresses a wide variety of audiences and stakeholders; however, no personal data are provided either to private persons or institutions or to governmental institutions, without your explicit consent. Private data will only be disclosed with your consent or where required by law.

6. Provision, Access, and Rectification of the Data

You have the right to access your personal data and the right to correct any inaccurate or incomplete personal data. You also have the right to request the removal of your personal data, which will be processed within three weeks after your request has been deemed legitimate.

If you have any queries concerning the processing of your personal data, you may address them to the Zero Project data controller: data@zeroproject.org

To expedite your request please use the following subject line “Data Request-[Insert Last Name].”

7. Legal Basis for the Processing Operation

The legal basis of the processing operation at stake is General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) (EU) 2016/679 of the European Union.

8. Time Limit for Storing Data

Your personal data are preserved as long as needed to serve the purpose for which they were gathered (see list of use cases in “2. Data Processed”), until such time as the data subject indicates she/he wants their data to be removed. In addition, should there be a change in the purpose for which the Zero Project has collected data, reauthorization forms will be sent to all the affected individuals.

9. Contact

If you have questions related to the protection of your personal data, you may contact the Zero Project data controller at: data@zeroproject.org

10. Recourse

At any time, you have the right of recourse to the European Data Protection Supervisor at: edps@edps.europa.eu

11. Privacy Policy Updates

The Zero Project may update this privacy policy by posting a new version on our website. If we update this privacy policy in a way that significantly changes how we use your personal information, we will bring these changes to your attention. Otherwise, we would recommend that you periodically review this privacy policy to be aware of any other revisions.
